

One of the nation's premier intercollegiate athletic conferences brings its football championship game to the Georgia Dome in Atlanta on December 3, 1994! The winners of the SEC's Eastern and Western Divisions will battle for the SEC championship and the right to represent the league in the US&G Insurance Sugar Bowl in New Orleans.

The Georgia Dome is a world-class facility featuring 71,500 chair-back seats in a spectacular setting geared toward the comfort and excitement of its patrons.
